

FINAL DATA SCIENCE PROJECTS

Welcome aboard!

We have reached the last great challenge of this adventure.

 Warning: fasten seat belts!

What is the Final Project?

It consists of the development of a larger project, simulating a first work experience within an educational laboratory. The objective is to integrate the knowledge acquired in the bootcamp, face the challenge of learning new technical skills and develop soft skills that enhance the student's growth.

You will have the freedom to choose one of the two projects that we present here:

Final Project Milestones

In this section you will be able to find a document detailing the general details of the project that you will have to carry out. Its reading is mandatory.

Final Project Video

The last task of the final project is to make an explanatory video of the work they did in this last stage. The creation of the video is mandatory for all groups (and yes, they will be able to upload those videos to their social networks and share them with whoever they want!), in addition, in an internal vote of the cohort, the three most voted videos go to be able to show them and present them on graduation day.

Video requirements:

Upload the video they made for the PF --> extension: 3 minutes maximum

Send the link to the form that will be provided to you.

Deadline: Thursday 10:00 GMT-3 of the week following the final demo.

That same Thursday we will do a vote open to the entire cohort (from 10:30 to 12:00 GMT-3) and we will inform you of the winning teams

Clarification: only approved groups will be considered to exhibit.

We leave here some videos of former cohorts for inspiration
